

Merle M Singer

Merle M Singer is THE Relationship Miracle Worker living in the heart of the Hollywood Hills under the canopy of the famous Hollywood sign.

Merle works primarily with women who have relationship problems and are unhappy, or angry, or both, Merle helps them move beyond the blame to transform their relationship to a more healthy relationship– and bring more happiness into their lives! Most importantly Merle’s techniques and marriage advice are designed to work – without their partner participating or not necessarily even knowing!

In the business setting, Merle’s students are both men and women that have successfully used similar techniques to deal with work related stress, where she has become The BUSINESS Relationship Miracle Worker. Navigating Relationship Stress at Work (When Going Bonkers is not an Option) is a workshop that gives many tips for relieving stress at work.

Merle holds both a Bachelor of Science degree in Secondary Education and a Master of Science degree in the Psychology of Reading from Temple University.

Perhaps Merle’s most significant credentials with regards to her significant abilities as a relationship expert are her more than 50 years of marriage to the same man, having parented her husband’s children and their own son. Merle is easily able to empathize with women who’ve experienced significant relationship difficulties and to help her clients overcome them, as she has. She has courses that offer relationship advice for women on techniques that may save their marriage

Merle’s “big vision” commitment is to bring peace to the world, one relationship at a time.
